Summary of Activities since last report:

Since the last report ARIN has successfully implemented a new webinar platform that is imbedded in the ARIN website. With the help of Ed Hayden and Eric Goldfarb, we were able to trial and test the new platform in real time. Our first webinar of 2014 entitled Embolization Considerations for Radio and Fibroid Embolization was broadcast to an audience of nearly 60 members on January 30th, 2014. This webinar was also recorded and will be available for self-study on the ARIN website in the near future.

The webinar committee is working diligently to provide continuing education to all ARIN members. Our committee is focused on providing respected speakers with innovative topics that are relevant to the practice development of all nurses in the imaging environment. The current planning year is slated to provide 6-8 webinars through the end of 2014. A schedule for upcoming webinars will be available online soon.

The webinar committee would like feedback from members on ideas for future topics as well as ways that we might improve the webinar experience. Please email Ed Hayden ehayden@association-partners.com if you have a topic or idea that you think is appropriate.
